Journal, copied into another column, discusses a question that the Republicans of the State would do well to give some attention to during the present luil in political excitements. It is, whether in the next political contest here we shall organ ize and fight as a strictly party organization, or whether we shall be hospitable to the dissatisfied elements of the dominant party and invite their co-operation for the accomplishment of common objects. Upon this question Republicans are divided. Some favor the policy of organizing and consolidating all the elements of opposition to the ruling wing of the Democracy into a State reform party, the ob ect of which will be to put the State under the control of honest, respectable men, without reference to national party divisions. Others insist that the Republicans shall make a rigorous and exclusive organization, leaving the Independents to choose between: 1st. A formal abandon ment of their name as Democrats with absorption into the Republican organiza tion; 2d. An inglorious return, like a re pentant prodigal, to the bosom of the WALKER Democracy; or third, the main tainance of an isolated position as a sepa

It is expected, we believe, by those wh tavor the policy of a strict party organization by Republicans, that the schism in the Democratic ranks would continue: and that the Democratic vote would the asble the Republicans to carry the day We have no very definite or satisfactory evidence as to the strength of the Independent vote. United with the Republi cans, it elected Gov. Jacon; but it did not Constitution Inst how much of it could be depended on to unite with us for common objects hereafter in non-partisan con tests is at least uncertain. We venture the opinion, however, that very few Indenarching under the Republican banner That contingency is too improbable to be seriously considered. These men would say to themselves that they are Democrats, that the name and faith are as dear to them as those of the Republicans are to them; that though dissatisfied with the management of their party they could not be Republicans; and if Republican would not meet them on middle ground there was nothing left for them but to go back and fall into line again. And that is precisely what they would do.

The remaining question is, whether it is best for the Republicans of the Statelargely in the minority—to redraw the party lines in State affairs. The Kanawha the State-thinks it is not: and as heretofore indicated in these columns, we cannot but share Captain Parsons' views. When it comes to National issues, every men should rally to his own camp-al Republicans to theirs, all Democrats to theirs; but when we are trying to have men sent to the Legislature who can read and write-who know that the world is round and that two and two make fourwho will not trade away public interests money because it is in their keeping, nor rob the treasury because they can-why done most effectively, by forgetting political differences for the time being and Commonwealth we have a common inter-

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—A prominent citizen of Cincinnati, who has been spending several days in the Ku-Klux region of Kentucky, returned last night. He reports the country quiet and the people ready to talk freely about their troubles. They claim that the account of affairs recently given in letters in the Louisville Courier-Journal are much exaggerated, and that the troubles will be stopped by a due course of law. One prominent lawyer stated that there was a large organization of the Ku-Klux, but that many, of them were respectable citizens who had CINCINNATI, Sept. 15 .- A prominen zation of the Ku-Klux, but that many of them were respectable citizens who had no sympathies with the marauders, and that whin ten days full disclosures would be made of the secrets of the order, and those who have repented of their connec-tion with it would assist in oppressing it. The idea of martial law is not reliahed by any one. Another prominent lawyer of Owen county, asserted that there was no established order and that the offenders were merely common thieves and murwere merely common thieves and mur were merely common thieves and universely derers. The Owen county authorities say that the murder of the negro, Whileston, is the only one that has taken place in their county. Two oi those charged with this murder were acquitted at the recliminary against and the three preliminary examination and the three others escaped from iail a week ago others escaped from Jall a week ago, though they afterwards gave themselves up to the officials, declaring they could prove an alibi.
